Hollings Expands Attack To Include National Black Leadership

Ernest F. Hollings, Democratic senator from South Carolina, who is the ONLY Southern Democratic Senator to publicly announce his support for Robert Heron Bork's confirmation to the United States Supreme Court, denounced The Leadership Conference On Civil Rights in a ten page, 20 minute speech on the floor of the United States Senate on Thursday, October 8, 1987.

Hollings, who has called the South Carolina State NAACP and other organizations and individuals in the state of South Carolina who have opposed his early endorsement of Bork, "LYNCH MOB" - a term that Ronald Reagan has adopted from Fritz Hollings - stepped up his attack to include

NATIONAL BLACK LEADERS in his speech.

Hollings, in a lengthy and emotional harangue attacked The Leadership Conference On Civil Rights, the umbrella organization that spearheaded the fight for all of the Civil Rights laws passed during the sixties and seventies, comprised of civil rights, human rights, civic, service, social, professional, fraternal, women's, labor, religious, and ethnic organizations that include: the National NAACP, the National Urban League, the Southern

Christian Leadership Conference, the NAACP Legal Defense Fund, the A. Philip Randolph Institute, the National Council of Negro Women, National Conference of Black Mayors, national Black Caucus of State Legislators, National Black Caucus of Local Elected Officials, the National Bar Association, the National Medical Association, the National Dental Association, every Black Greek letter fraternity; Alpha, Kappa, Omega, Sigma, and every Black Greek letter sorority, AKA, Delta, Sigma Gamma Rho, Zeta, and scores of other Black organizations, that represent the best of Black America.

Hollings attacked these most respected, prestigious, and responsible organizations by saying, "The Leadership Conference On Civil Rights moved to organize some 300 interest groups ranging from environment to labor....," "AND THE MOB WAS ON THE MARCH."

Dr. William F. Gibson, President of the South Carolina

State NAACP, who also serves as chairman of the NAACP's National Board of Directors, said, "If Hollings has the gall and the audacity to attack The Leadership Conference On Civil Rights in such a derogatory manner, that shows that he has no respect for anything or any institution that is Black: the organization (The Leadership Conference On Civil Rights), that was founded by the late Mr. Roy Wilkins, past Executive Director of the NAACP and the late Mr. A. Philip Randolph, organizer of the 1963 great Civil Rights March on Washington, and founder and President of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, the organization whose first chairman was Roy Wilkins, and is now chaired by Dr. Benjamin Hooks, and the organization of which the late Clarence Mitchell, Jr. - the NAACP's former Washington Bureau chief, and the man, referred to as the 101st senator, when Hollings was voting against Civil Rights legislation and the confirmation of Thurgood Marshall to the same court - serves as the Honorary Chairman Emeritus. The current vice chairman is a South Carolina native from Bennettsville, Mrs. Marian Wright Edelman, who is also chairlady of the Children's Defense Fund. Until his recent death, Bayard Rustin served as chairman of the Executive Committee that included the brightest and the best of Black America. Gibson concluded by asking the question: "What's next Fritz Hollings??? You have attacked every institution in our community, in behalf of Robert Bork - except 'The Collective Black Church'."

Ramirez & Guiles, Run For Perris School Board

"Our Children Must Excel"

Perris Elementary School District will change its course if two women win seats on the school board in the November 3 election.

The two, Lucky M. Ramirez, 26 and Melody G. Guiles, 39, are running for the full term and short term positions respectively. They are running because they want a better life for their children and others. Presently, children, they explained cannot excel in the district, the policy is they must extend. This means the children must stay within their grade and age limits, and are not allowed to do more challenging work, only more of the same. They charge the gifted program is almost non-existent in Perris and children are stagnating.

Current board members have been there for up to 30 years.

The two decided to run when the current board member called them stupid and ignorant, during the selection process of current retiring member Mr. Minnick. Minnick, after being appointed, over the objections of the parents said anyone wanting to run for his seat was "crazy" He was serious and did not attempt re-election.

Ramirez and Guiles said, with leadership like that, they had no choice. They had to run for the seat.

JESSE JACKSON LEADS IN "SUPER TUESDAY" POLL

The most recent poll of Southern voters shows the Rev. Jesse Jackson leading his five Democratic party rivals in the race to take first place in the so-called Super Tuesday Southern Primary. The March 8, 1988 primary is called "Super Tuesday" because at least 16 Southern and Border states will be conducting primaries on the same day. The poll conducted by the Atlanta Journal and Constitution found 27 percent of potential voters favoring Jackson. Tennessee Senator Albert Gore trails Jackson with 13 percent while Massachusetts Governor Michael Dukakis place third with 9 percent. Among Republicans the poll found Vice President George Bush leading his rivals by a wide margin.

MICHAEL JACKSON SAYS HE'S "HURT" BY RUMORS AND PRESS REPORTS

Commenting for the first time on the rumors about his personal life which have plagued much of his professional career, singer Michael Jackson charged last week, "It hurts and I've been bleeding a long time." Jackson's comments came in a letter to People magazine. He denied reports that he had been taking female hormone injections. It has long been rumored that Jackson is gay. Meanwhile, Jackson's record company denied a report that he had been taking chemical treatments to lighten his skin so he could look white. Epic records said there were absolutely no truth to the reports. In his letter Jackson pleaded with the media to stop reporting such rumors about him.

AIDS Is Everybody's Responsibility

by Ann Reid

I guess I've waited to long to speak out on this subject, but I can not keep silent any longer. Lets talk AIDS. America must take the position that we allowed the AIDS epidemic to happen. We are treating the AIDS virus like we are surprised by the results. The lack of responsibility. I guess the thing that upsets me the most is it is being viewed as a social, moral, legal, and political issue. The "straight people" are saying, "it's not problem, I don't use drugs and I'm not gay." The drug addicts are saying, "it's not my problem, I don't use drugs and I'm not gay." The drug addicts are saying, "I know how to clean my needle", the homosexuals are saying, "please don't segregate us, we are humans and we are dying", and the religious groups are saying "this is God's will and he has put a plague on us." People, wake up - it is everybody's responsibility. I frankly don't care where it came from -Africa, China, America, or wherever. People are dying. The gay community is running around screaming "don't segregate me", but it is time they take responsibility for their sexual conduct. AIDS is sexually transmitted. They are going to have to change their sex patterns. Oral and anal sex is out. It is not a moral issue it is all about an epidemic. It is time to teach health habits. You can not put a condom on lips, nor is it wise to put on a condom and maybe lose it in your rectum. You can not tell me that the gay community is not aware that AIDS is highest in the male homosexual group. I don't know if this is God's will, he has not revealed this to me as of this writing. If you believe in God, well the Bible teaches that we do not do anything that is contrary to his will. We as Christians are not judges. To engage in homosexuality is a decision of that individual, we are to love the person. I do not believe that group is "sick", but I should be respected for my views. If one does not desire to engage in homosexuality, that also is his choice. I don't know why the homosexuals are demanding their right to be gay--who cares? The only thing the gay community should be concerned about is the spread of the virus. I think to stand in the street and demand to be accepted is ridiculous. The gay community should accept the responsibility of teaching safe sex practice. Instead of demanding a hug, demand education on the virus. We know you don't get AIDS from hugging, it's not the hugs that bother me, it is the fact that the gay community refuses to say let's practice safe sex. yes, God loves everybody, we make choices, but we must always be willing to accept the end results. You can not legalize love. You don't go to court to solve the AIDS problem. Courts do not solve communicable diseases. AIDS is not a legal problem, nor is it a political problem. Two women will never produce an offspring alone--it takes the male sperm. No two men can produce an offspring--it takes the female. Wake up America--the babies are dying before they even have a chance. Lets take responsibility for our own behavior and save America. AIDS is a killer and it is killing people. Don't get hung up in groups. The medical experts are working long hours to find a cure for AIDS, but listen people, nothing has been invented to control behavior--that is our responsibility.

Coca-Cola Salutes "Black Families"

Black families of achievement will be honored by Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Los Angeles in its second in a series of "Salute To The Black Family". Lucille Boswell, Manager of Consumer Affairs at the Los Angeles Office announced.

The Bicentennial Celebration of the Constitution of the United States adds new impetus to this year's search for the outstanding Black family as we focus on the agonies and ecstasies of family life in America and the struggle and sacrifice of the American families to bring this country to the greatness that most of us now enjoy, and some even take for granted.

"There has been much publicity regarding the reputed demise of the Black family in the United States," said Mrs. Boswell. "However, statistics do not tell the complete story," she said.

And herein lies the purpose of the Salute...to promote the positive image of the Black family in Southern California.

Studies indicate that middle class Black families are progressing and doing very well, but the Black families who are poor are having almost unsurmountable difficulties to survive. Yet, there are some poor families who are surviving, who are not only winning the struggle, but who have been able to motivate their children to achieve far beyond normal expectations.

These are the families that are being sought by Coca-Cola for recognition of their contributions to family life and to serve as role models for young families.

Some of these families are intact with both mother and father in the home, but some are single parent families who have been successful. These families can serve as an inspiration and example for others to emulate.

"Throughout the history of America, the Black family has been noted for its ability to cope and adapt, and to survive. It is this positive image that we are seeking to bring to public attention and to honor," said Mrs. Boswell.

"These families are living testimonials to the fact that our Constitution does work and it is this positive role model that we want to serve as a constant reminder that in America, any family can," Mrs. Boswell concluded.

A distinguished Selection Committee headed by Los Angeles Mayor Tom Bradley will assist Coca-Cola in selecting the winning families. Mayor Bradley serves as Honorary Chairperson with Mrs. Lucille Boswell of Coca-Cola serving as Chairperson. Co-Chairpersons are Dr. Thomas Kilgore, Jr. and Assemblywoman Maxine Waters.

Dan Austin, Educator and Principal in the Los Angeles Unified School District and Dr. Eugenia Scott, retired Los Angeles Educator and School Administrator, are serving as Selection Committee Co-Chairpersons.

An equally distinguished group of Advisors will assist the Selection Committee in this monumental task. Were it not for their affiliation with the Committee, they would be exemplary contenders for the honor as they, too, represent generations of Black family achievers.

Advisors are: Commissioner Jessie Mae Beavers, Los Angeles Music and Performing Arts Commission President; Congressman Julian Dixon; Ivan Houston, Chairman of the Board, Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company; Elbert Hudson, President of Broadway Federal Savings & Loan; Judge Billy Mills, Los Angeles Superior Court; Dr. James Rosser, President of California State University at Los Angeles and Dr. Ann Shaw, community activist and recent Woman of the Year award winner.

For further information, criteria and nomination information, contact Lucille Boswell at (213) 746-5555, Ext. 4249.

Moreno Valley News By Charles Ledbetter

Charles Ledbetter

1988 CTA Scholarship Program: The California Teachers Association Scholarship Program gives financial aid to "active" members of CTA and/or dependent children of "active" CTA members for study in higher education.

This program is wholly funded by the California Teachers Association and provides 20 $2,000 scholarships. This program is administered by the CTA scholarship committee. Applications may be obtained by contacting one of the following: Local CTA Chapter, CTA Regional Resource Center Office, CTA Human Rights Dept., Post Office Box 921, Burlingame, California 94011.

Aides In The Classroom: Aides can be valuable asset to a teacher, the children in the class and the educational system, as a special education teacher and a candidate for the Moreno Valley School Board of Education I propose that we have aides in all elementary classes and the special classes at the junior high and high school level. The students need this extra individual attention.

However that is another side to the story. As I go around asking people to vote for me on Nov. 3rd and out me on the Moreno Valley School Board, I am told by some educators that they refuse to have an aide in their classroom. Some are saying that these people bring division and confusion into the classroom. Some aides, a teacher told me are being used as unofficial evaluators. This is not right and I will look into this further as a private citizen of Moreno Valley. Some aides, I have been told, use the students as a means to discredit the teacher and sometimes the school. One aide, a teacher said, would bring in their own program and thus change some of the teacher's lesson plans behind the teacher's back. The results, a confused classroom. I am glad I don't know anyone like that. I think they would have to hit the road.

The type of behavior reported above can only destroy an effective educational program, and undermine the morale of a school system.

I personally believe that aides are an important part of the educational system. When my aide could not be around, I would ask another student who is advanced to help another slower student. Peer tutoring is very effective. The regular aide could use the experiences that are exposed to in the classroom as a stepping stone toward higher education for themselves. Many have gone on to higher learning and returned to the same school where they were aides. I understand they are very effective teachers. As time goes by, and we continue to develop in Moreno Valley we are going to need many more teachers. Why not use this aide experience as a means of bettering oneself and society. I have always said, "If I can't add something positive to a program, I will leave it alone." This is good advice, and I believe aides have a lot of positive attributes.

Moreno Valley School Board of Education: The results of the election Nov. 3 will reveal how much we have grown in our minds and souls as a community. This district has grown from a one high school and Junior High and five elementary schools into a community that requires more than twice this number of educational institutions. When this type of development becomes necessary, it is important to have persons in official positions who are interested in the welfare of our children and not how much money they can stuff into their pockets. It has happened. Read the news.

We would like to feel that there is a time in the operation of civic affairs that we can relax and "let others do it" and not have to worry about it. However it is not that way, we are living in an imperfect world. That is why the frames of our constitution designed the "check and balance" system. This system has kept us a free nation and out of the control of special interest groups. Moreno Valley now has the opportunity to exercise it's "check and balance" rights by voting Nov 3. Nothing is more important than that we shake ourselves loose from the trap of one man in control of our district and take a leap toward a better and more open way of running our school district. School Board members should not hustle the community that they are elected to serve. A better day is coming, together, we can!!

Business/Education

Philip Morris Companies, Inc. Honored For Excellence

During the recent North Carolina "Trade '87" banquet held at the Marriott City Center in Charlotte, N.C., Philip Morris Companies, Inc. received the national award for excellence from the North Carolina-based Minorities and Women in Business Magazine.

Philip Morris Companies, Inc. was cited for its commitment to minority business programs. In 1986, the company spent $180 million on goods and services supplied by minority vendors. It has also become a major force in the development of minority-owned businesses: Philip Morris employees have conducted a series of business seminars for minority suppliers over the past several years. They have also lent their expertise to such organizations as the National Urban League, the United Negro College Fund and the National Suppliers Development Council.

The award was presented by Louis Myers, assistant secretary of commerce for the state of North Carolina. In accepting the honors on the company's behalf, Frank Resnik, president of Philip Morris USA said: "Success grows out of an individual's vision, courage, ambition persistence and faith. Those individual qualities are the most precious capital of any enterprise, but in order for that capital to bear fruit, the enterprise must operate in an atmosphere of opportunity and freedom."

Minorities and Women in Business Magazine was founded by John Enoch in 1984. A national bi-monthly publication with a circulation of 84,000, it was established as a means of publicizing and recognizing the programs and achievements of minorities and women in the field of business.

RCC Nurses Make 100 Percent Board Pass Rate For 9th Consecutive Year

For the ninth consecutive year the Riverside Community College Vocational Nursing class has achieved a 100 percent pass rate on the State Board exam. "That's unusual," says Ann Shuman of the Board of Vocational Nursing in Sacramento.

According to Shuman, the average pass rate varies from college to college, but it is excellent for a whole class to pass the exam, and exceptional for a department to produce enough high caliber students to consistently result in a 100 percent pass.

Nineteen students made up the Vocational Nursing class of 1987. Dean of the RCC Allied Health Program Sharon Evans attributes credit for their fine performance not only to the students and all of the faculty who participated in the educational program, but particularly to full-time faculty Phyllis Rojakovick and Annette Garies. Evans says, "We're very proud of our instructor and our graduates."

Change In RTA Board Meeting Time

The Riverside Transit Agency Board of Directors took action at its last meeting to change the start time of their meetings from 3:30 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. This change will be effective with the November 19 meeting.

Meetings of the RTA Board of Directors are held monthly at the RTA Administrative offices located at 1825 Third Street, Riverside, CA. They are held on the fourth Thursday of each month, but due to the upcoming holidays, the meetings for November and December will be held on the third Thursday of those months (November 19 and December 17). Meetings on the fourth Thursday of the month will resume in January.

For further information, call RTA at 684-0850.

The book is co-authored by Dr. George H. Hill, APR and Robert C. Farrell, APR, the Councilman Farrell was a publicist and journalist prior to entering politics.

"The bibliography will list books by and about Black public relations professionals, and newspaper and magazine articles on the field," says Dr. Hill. "Blacks have given of themselves for more than 50 years in this ever expanding area of media; however, very little is known about them and their work. This book documents of their contributions and their efforts.

Councilman Farrell adds that this book is useful to the entire communications industry. Public relations practitioners, scholars, students, professors, and all those seeking knowledge about Black involvement in the field will have a single source for pertinent information.

The UNCF Needs Your Support

The United Negro College Fund's annual "Lou Rawls Parade of Stars" telethon is coming to television on December 26, 1987.

As you are well aware, quality education costs money. Lots of it. There are different needs, of course. The United Negro College Fund helps 42 private, historically Black colleges and universities provide high-quality education for 45,000 young men and women. The financial sources for these schools depend on constant and generous levels of support from the private sector and personal contributions.

The challenge to increase support for the 42 United Negro Colleges has never been greater. Education remains the key to a better life for all Americans, regardless of race, creed or financial status, and UNCF colleges have done more to advance the education of Black students than any other group of educational institutions. Today United Negro Colleges are faced with spiraling costs, reductions in student aid and federal support for education, and declining Black family income. In order to continue the long tradition of providing a quality college education, we must rise to the challenge with renewed enthusiasm.

We have begun our 1987 Groups, Clubs and Organizations Campaign for the United Negro College Fund. Many of you have been very supportive in the past; of which we are most appreciative. We are asking that all of you include the College Fund in your 1987 budget. A gift of any amount will be greatly received and used.

The UNCF goal for this year is to raise $15,000. Send your check to:

United Negro College Fund, Riverside/San Bernardino Committee, P.O.Box 1191, Riverside, CA 92502.

The UNCF Riverside/San Bernardino Committee consists of Honorary Chairs: Hardy Brown, Lois Carson, Wilmer

College Fair Day

Close to 2,000 students and community members are expected to attend the 15th annual College Fair Day scheduled for Monday, October 26 at San Bernardino Valley College. Representatives from 30 colleges and universities will be on campus to provide information to students interested in transfer to a four-year institution. The event is open to the general public, also.

"Every year we attract more students who want to continue their education beyond the associate degree level," stated Elsie Allie, SBVC counselor and College Day coordinator.

The Fair, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., will be held in the quadrangle north of the campus center. Students may obtain application forms and gather brochures and information about major requirements, tuition, fees, and financial aid. The SBVC Counseling and Guidance Department sponsors the event.

Carter, Jack Clarke, Lewis Davidson, W.R. "Bob" Holcomb, Art Townsend, and Jesse Washington; Business Chairs: Vivian Nash and Barbara Smith; Clubs/Organizations Chairs: Jennifer Blakely, Marion Johnson, and Joyce Smith; Church Chairs: Rev. Lemar Foster and Henrietta Moore; Special Events Chairs: Sharon Hosea; and Area Developer: June Chandler.

Many colleges and universities throughout the state will be participating, as well as the Air Force ROTC, Army ROTC, Navy ROTC, and the U.S. Navy.

Valley College is located at 701 S. Mt. Vernon between College Drive and Grant Street. For additional information, contact Allie at the Counseling Center, 888-6511 ext. 160.

Group To Offer Lamaze Classes

People's Choice Foundation will sponsor a 4-week Child Birthing Class beginning the end of October, at 1505 W. Highland Avenue, San Bernardino, CA. The weekly course will be held in the evening and will provide a certificate for labor and delivery participation.

Registration necessary prior to attending class. For more information call (714) 887-7045 or 887-4414. Ask for Gwen of Pat.

This program is possible through a small grant from San Bernardino Community Service Department to cover cost of training.

The Governor's Charge vs. Our Schools

Last summer, with opinion polls and editorials running heavily against him, Governor George Deukmejian hit upon a strategem for deflecting the widespread and growing criticism.

What had upset Californians was the governor's refusal to assign all or much of the state's budget surplus to public education. Despite appallingly overcrowded classrooms—and many other school problems—Deukmejian insisted on "rebating" the surplus.

The governor refused to listen to anyone who held a view different from his own. For months he wouldn't even speak to the state schools superintendent. He turned his back as well on members of his own party in the state senate, since many of them also favored moves to help education.

No politician can afford to ignore widespread public dissatisfaction, however—particularly if that politician harbors ambitions either for a third term or for higher office.

Another 'Reform Commission'

The device Deukmejian selected to defuse resentment is the "Governor's Commission on Educational Quality." The device is suspect.

- Over the past four years, public education has been subjected to two dozen major studies by panels of government, business, and professional leaders. In California, the Commons Commission produced a widely heralded report—and made 23 specific recommendations for improving our schools.

- Despite all that expert work, our governor has approved very few of the reforms proposed.

- Indeed, soon after Deukmejian established his own commission, he vetoed a bill reducing class size—though all reform proposals call for smaller classes.

Despite the reason for its creation, the Governor's Commission may represent a small, first step toward getting a real commitment out of the Deukmejian Administration—a commitment to doing something for education. The governor has had many chances; to date he has been long on words and very short on action.

What's in a 'Priority'?

Few California governors, indeed, have paid more lip-service to public education than George Deukmejian. Repeatedly he says, "Education is my number one priority."

But he has repeatedly resisted, cut, and vetoed adequate school funding measures. This year, for example, Deukmejian prepared a budget that sharply reduced our schools' share of state expenditures. Then, to make sure public education lost out, he vetoed funds the legislature had restored.

His "charge" to the new commission fully reflects the governor's real priorities. "The problem with American education is not that it is underfunded," Deukmejian says, but that our schools are "under-accountable." His statement raises two questions.

- Does the governor expect people to believe his claim that education is his top priority when he makes it a low priority in spending?
- Why suddenly is the governor referring to "American" education and not California education? Is it because, under Deukmejian, our state has fallen to 48th among the 50 states in per-student spending as a percentage of personal income? Or because California is now 50th—dead last—in class size?

What the Governor Neglects

His "charge" refutes the governor's claim. Children and education are nowhere among his priorities.

- His charge says nothing whatever about overcrowded classes.
- His charge says nothing about disadvantaged, handicapped, and other children with special needs.
- His charge says nothing about the immense teacher shortage that is just over the horizon—or about the need to raise teacher salaries to enable our schools to compete for qualified college graduates.

- And while his charge is heavy on "accountability," he says nothing about the foremost accountability issue—the diversion of monies from the classroom into programs and "services" that provide no direct instructional benefit to our children and youth.

Quality Commissioners

Despite Deukmejian's "charge," CTA intends to cooperate fully with the Governor's Commission. Such panels often take on a life of their own—and executive mandates may be left behind in the search for truth.

The quality of individual appointees recommended to the governor give CTA confidence that Deukmejian's "charge" will not dictate the whole of the commission's agenda.

Three current or recent CTA members serve on the commission, for example, and they are sure to focus attention on the schools' real needs.

Former San Francisco Mayor and (1964) Republican gubernatorial candidate George Christopher chairs the commission. He has already issued a list of concerns from the public that differs notably from the governor's—a list that is both thoughtful and relevant.

And former Superintendent of Public Instruction Wilson Riles, a man of deep compassion and high integrity, both knows the schools and will not be swayed by political considerations.

The commission is sure to recognize that California can and must do better in education. Achieving higher quality will require us at least to match expenditure levels in the top states.

If the commission persuades Gov. Deukmejian to agree that California doesn't have to rank at the bottom, it will have served our state very well.

Miller Donates $75,000 To Student Alcohol Awareness Group

Miller Brewing Company has donated $75,000 to BACCHUS (Boost Alcohol Consciousness Concerning the Health of University Students), a nationwide alcohol awareness and abuse prevention organization.

Since 1980, the brewer has contributed $675,000 to the organization.

State Health Officials Will Address Minority AIDS Issues

The availability of over $1.6 million in new funds for AIDS education projects that target minority groups will be discussed at a press briefing on AIDS by Dr. Kenneth Kizer, Director of the Department of Health Services, and Thelma Frazier, Chief of California's Office of AIDS.

It will be held Monday, October 26 from 9:30 - 10:30 a.m.

With Cooler Weather On Its Way, It's Time To Relight Furnace Pilots

With cooler weather approaching now that it's autumn, Southern California Gas Co. has issued a reminder that it's time to relight furnace pilots if you turned them off for the summer.

"More than a million customers throughout southern California turned off their furnace pilot lights for the summer, saving them money on their monthly gas bills," said Arnold Dickson, gas company district manager.

Instructions for relighting pilots usually are found near the main control valve on natural gas furnaces and heaters. But if residents can't find the instructions, or if they are unsure about how to relight the pilot, they should call the gas company to do the job, the gas company official said.

"We'll come out to make sure the heating appliance is relighted and functioning properly - at no charge," Dickson said. The official advised against waiting too long. If a cold snap hits suddenly, the gas company can be swamped with service requests, resulting in delays and inconvenience to the customer.

"This also is an excellent time to replace or clean the air filters on those units so equipped," said Dickson.

Miller Brewing Company is our largest corporate supporter," said Drew Hunter, executive director of BACCHUS. "With this support, we are able to reach thousands of students through educational programs and materials to encourage responsible conduct by those who are of legal age and who choose to drink."

at the CNA Building, 10th Floor, main Conference Room, 600 S. Commonwealth Ave., Los Angeles.

The briefing will also include an update on the AIDS epidemic in California, including its current and potential impact on ethnic minorities, and an overview of specific steps California is taking to fight the disease.

John Shafer, Miller Brewing Company's manager of consumer affairs, said the company has been highly supportive of BACCHUS because the program is based on college students establishing their own principles of conduct rather than being dictated to be others.

"We believe BACCHUS is beneficial because it encourages students to establish their own high standards of personal responsibility if they choose to drink alcohol beverages,"

Health News

by Ernest C. Levister, Jr., M.D., F.A.C.P.

Baldness:

Dear Dr. Levister: What is Minoxidil? E.T.

Dear E.T.: Minoxidil is available in the United States as an oral medication for treatment of severe hypertension. The majority of male users noted regrowth of hair, with partial reversal of male pattern baldness in a few.

This spawn trials of topical application of Minoxidil in the male quest to satisfy vanity. We don't know why the drug causes hair to grow. We do know that this vasodilator increases blood flow to the scalp. The drug is absorbed from the scalp and dumped into the blood stream.

The results of short term studies varied with 25-50 percent of individuals with early male pattern baldness reporting a cosmetic response. It is temporarily effective in decreasing hair loss.

To sustain the effect, treatment would have to be continued indefinitely. There are side effects to contend with to include impotence (inability to have an erection).

A topical formulation is sold in Canada with 60 ml of a 1-5 percent solution costing about $40 but is not available in the United States. Illicit liquid formulations of the oral drug have been widely used in this country for treatment of baldness.

Dr. Levister welcomes readers mail concerning their bodies but regrets he is unable to answer individual letters. Reader's questions will be incorporated in the column whenever possible. Letters to Dr. Levister can be addressed to him in care of Voice News, P.O. Box 1581, Riverside, Ca 92502.
